WEEKLY REFLECTION

Saints Peter and Paul

The feast we celebrate today has a special meaning for me personally—I was baptized at Saints Peter and Paul parish in Loretto, MN. And so, in addition to the importance of this feast in the Church and of the two Saints we honor, it's also a reminder for me of my own Baptism.

This connection is not incidental either. In Baptism, God had already placed within me the seeds of His plan for me, for my vocation (cf. OMV Formula of Profession). My vocation is to be priest of the Catholic Church: to be entirely obedient to the Magisterium, represented by St. Peter; and to embody the evangelistic zeal of the missionary Church, represented by St. Paul. We cannot have one without the other: There can be no Magisterium if the Church does not continue to evangelize all peoples, and there can be no fruitful evangelization if it not rooted in the truth of the Gospel as interpreted by the authoritative Magisterium. This is we celebrate Peter and Paul together, as the two pillars of the early Church: "Christian tradition has always considered Sts. Peter and Saint Paul to be inseparable: indeed, together, they represent the whole Gospel of Christ." (Pope Benedict XVI)

Today, all Oblates of the Virgin Mary around the world renew their Oath of Fidelity to the Magisterium. We are forever united with Peter and his successors, and we profess that we will never believe or teach anything contrary to the teaching office of the Church. We also see this as a starting point: that from the solidity of our faith, we must go forth. We must be witnesses to the Gospel of Christ; we must share that message with all who need to hear it; we must evangelize the masses who do not yet know the surpassing love of God in Christ. Today, let us all (not just Oblates!) be united in our profession and in our missionary zeal.

--Fr. Jonathon Hank, OMV

Catechesis Corner

The Magisterium, the teaching office of the Church, is guaranteed by the Holy Spirit to faithfully transmit the teachings of Christ. The Magisterium's teaching applies to all matters of faith and morals, including proper interpretation of Scripture, dogmas, doctrines, commandments and precepts. It is valid for all time. At the noon Mass this Sunday the Oblates of the Virgin Mary will renew their Oath of Fidelity to the Magisterium.

Summer Mission Appeals

This summer, we have already welcomed Unbound ministries that seeks economic development in poorer countries (May 23-24), and Cross Catholic that supports the poorest of the poor especially by providing clean water sources and evangelization and education (June 21-22). The visiting priests have helped us cover Masses and confessions during the absence of Oblates this summer, as well as raise awareness of their missions. We have two more coming up: FOCUS Share will support university missionaries nationwide (July 19-20), and the official annual mission appeal with second collection will be August 16-17 by the religious sisters Daughters of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary of Bui Chu (Vietnam). In the Fall, we will take up a second collection for the support of the Oblates of the Virgin Mary who have served Holy Ghost for nearly 25 years. Thank you for your prayerful financial support of these organizations!
